

GARTHELAUDED IN RESOLUTIONS

Gridiron Club Pays Tribute
To Veteran Washington
Journalist.

Resolutions on the death of Louis Garthe, veteran Washington representative of the Baltimore American, whose funeral was held yesterday morning at 11 o'clock from his late residence, 1757 K street northwest, were adopted at a recent meeting of the Gridiron Club. Mr. Garthe held offices of treasurer, vice president and president of the club. Burial was in Baltimore.

The resolutions follow, in part: "Louis Garthe was a Washington correspondent. He came to the National Capital in 1888 and from that time until his death was the Washington correspondent of the Baltimore American. He is the only man in the press list in the Congressional Directory who has been continuously at the head of the bureau of the same paper for such a long period. This alone is a tribute to him and to the paper that recognizes a newspaper man of capacity and talent."

"During all this time Louis Garthe stood for all that is best and worth while in Washington journalism. He was a news-gatherer as well as a newspaper man. Never given to sensationalism nor to misrepresentation of any kind, he stood high among all those with whom he came in contact, and his death is mourned by men everywhere, without regard to political affiliations."

"While Maryland was the particular field of his newspaper work, he had a keen insight into national and international affairs. His opinions and judgment regarding events of the day were sound and logical. In all, he was a credit to his profession, a newspaper man of high order, and one whose example and life are worthy of emulation."

COX SIDESTEPS SOLDIER BONUS

"Impossible to Determine Sentiment Now," Says
Nominee.

Gov. James M. Cox, interviewed by the Stars and Stripes, a veterans' publication, on the question of compensation for men who fought in the world war, stands by the Democratic platform in advocating homes for the returned soldiers. An interview on the same subject with Senator Warren G. Harding was released by the publication last week.

Gov. Cox dodges the question of the cash bonus by saying that it is impossible now to determine what the sentiment of the country towards such action would be. He believes in the consolidation of the War Risk Bureau and the Vocational Training Board.

Gov. Cox is quoted as follows: "It has long been part of my philosophy that every citizen should own his own home. Now, therefore, it is no gratuity for the country to aid them in becoming home-owning citizens to whom the future of the nation may be well trusted."

"It seems to me inevitable that the War Risk and Vocational Board will be consolidated. Great good can be effected both in continuation of government insurance and in the upbuilding of vocational training."

In regard to vocational training, I cannot express myself strongly enough in favor of doing every-thing possible—and doing it expensively—to help educate to new usefulness and new helpfulness those who were injured in defending their country."

Although failing to express himself definitely on the cash bonus, Gov. Cox charges that a Republican Congress neglected to treat the matter when it was necessary to the men who had just been discharged from the army.

Wants Replica of
White House for
U. S. at Tokyo

(Washington Herald - Public Ledger Service, Special Far East Dispatch.)

Tokyo, Sept. 10.—An exact model of the White House as an American Embassy in Tokyo is the plan of Representative Stephen G. Porter, of Pennsylvania, chairman of the House Foreign Affairs Committee. After inspecting the grounds with a representative of the Public Ledger, Mr. Porter said: "The present embassy is a disgrace to Americans and a mark of disrespect to the Japanese. 'I believe the relationship between the countries is of such importance as to warrant a creditable building and I intend that it shall be characteristically American. My idea is to construct embassies modeled after the White House in all the capitals of the world.'"

AN IDEAL and its accomplishment

Since its beginning PIGGLY WIGGLY has striven for the utmost perfection in supplying housekeepers with their table needs.

How far it has attained success can best be marked by its army of hundreds of thousands of satisfied customers, which steadily increases.

PIGGLY WIGGLY offers its customers what it conscientiously believes to be the best at the lowest margin of profit.

C. Houston Goudiss, writing about PIGGLY WIGGLY in The Forecast, America's leading food magazine, says:

"Of course, it is the story of an idea. Of course, it begins with one man. One man and an idea have parented everything big that ever has been. And so long as human being is based on Eden's blessing—'In the sweat of thy brow shalt thou earn thy bread'—nothing big can be born in any other way."

"It is the only system yet devised which in any considerable degree practically solves the problem of the high cost of living."

"It is indeed a dream—but a dream come true. For PIGGLY WIGGLY is an accomplished fact, a highly successful enterprise."

"And it is the only system of merchandising today in existence which makes real distinction between that which is useless and that which is necessary in retail food distribution."
